		a. Can the research be categorized as Classified? Classified research is usually government funded and can further be defined as national security information at the levels of Top Secret and Confidential, and as being governed by Department of Defense National Industrial Security Program Operating Manual (NISPOM) requirements. Publication of classified research results can be legally withheld or restricted.
		b. Can the research be categorized as Controlled Unclassified Information? Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI) is categorical designation that refers to unclassified information that does not meet the standards for National Security Classification under Executive Order 12958, as amended, but is (i) pertinent to the national interests of the United States or to the important interests of entities outside the Federal Government, and (ii) under law or policy requires protection from unauthorized disclosure, special handling safeguards, or prescribed limits on exchange or dissemination. Henceforth, the designation CUI replaces "Sensitive but Unclassified" (SBU).

		c. Can the research be categorized as Proprietary? Proprietary research, usually privately funded, is defined as research activities undertaken pursuant to a contract between the Health Science Center and an outside sponsor with commercial interests, and carried out under the auspices of the Health Science Center. Publication of proprietary research results can be withheld or restricted, contractually.
		d. Does the project restrict participation to US citizens or permanent residents only?
		e. Can the research be categorized as Restricted? Restricted research is research where publication may require advance review by, or permission of the funding entity. Restricted research may have constraints imposed by the funding entity, whether it be the state, a federal agency, or a private sponsor with or without commercial interests.
		f. Can the research be categorized as “Fundamental”? Fundamental research means basic and applied research in science and engineering, the results of distinguished from proprietary research and from industrial development, design, production, and product utilization, the results of which ordinarily are restricted for proprietary or national security reasons. Fundamental Research applies only to the dissemination of technical data and information, not to the transmission of material goods.
		g. Will visitor have access to technical specifications of equipment where such specifications are not available through published materials such as commercially available manuals, documentation in libraries or the World Wide Web, information from teaching laboratories or information available to interested communities for either free or where the price does not exceed the cost of production?
